

I need you ...

... to just be present in my classroom. When teachers are trying to give lots of one-on-one attention to each of us, an extra adult means I don't have to hear, "Just a minute." I hear that a lot at home and I need to know I'm more important than I think I am.

TREASURE

I need you ...

... to help in our therapeutic classroom as a volunteer to assist teachers, helping me explore the environment, playing dress-up & grown-up. I can "cook" a meal for you in the pretend kitchen, ask you questions about a puzzle I'm working on, or you can help me tie my shoe.

VALLEY

I need you ...

... to come by the nursery at the end of the day and help with light cleaning and disinfecting. Classroom teachers have lots of charting to do and our new bus takes a classroom assistant away. That leaves one tired assistant to vacuum, sanitize toys & clean the potty.

CHILDREN'S

I need you ...

... to help at our annual Baby Quilt Show & Boutique. This event raises money for the programs and services my family accesses at the nursery. You can help price, put up posters, or even make a quilt before the October event. We need lots of help the day of the show, too.

RELIEF

I need you ...

... to help in our therapeutic classroom when we go outside to play. You can help me safely explore, or play tag with me. You can help me grow my vocabulary by talking about plants, trees, and flowers, the sky and the wind: textures, colors, shapes, and sounds.

NURSERY

Sometimes people who work in an office atmosphere welcome a change of scenery, but if you work in an office and could help with filing, copying, mailings, or answering the phone, we would very much welcome the help! And, if a longer-term commitment interests you, consider serving on our board of directors. All help is welcomed!
